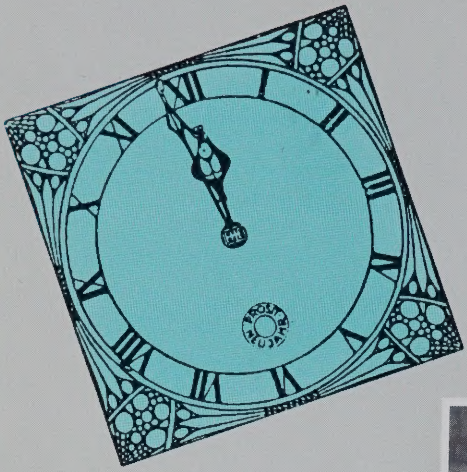
Face The Future

Sometimes high school life can be blurred by stress, homework, and relationships. But, Hey! There is always tomorrow.

EASTSIDE HIGH SCHOOL

603 EAST GREEN STREET
BUTLER, INDIANA 46721

Volume XXVII



1990. A new decade. A new era. With the North Central evaluation and major construction on the building, Eastside enters the 1990's. Seniors get anxious about entering the real world, juniors get anxious about being seniors, sophomores get anxious . . . see a pattern here? Eastside is definitly conscious about its future, and that future is looking better than ever. The Berlin wall will soon be nothing but a bad memory, Russia and the Cold War thaw with Glasnost, and the world is enjoyng a period of relative peace. With these promises of tranquility, the future is easy to face.

Building for the Future

Eastside is growing! A large construction project is adding seven new classrooms that will complete a junior high academic wing of the building. Junior high students will have their Block classes housed in the wing, and an office will be located nearby for the Assistant Principal, Counselor, and Secretary. Adjacent to the hallway will be a large gymnasium for use by junior high physical education classes and after school junior high competition.

Also being added are two large shop rooms to be used for woods and metalworking classes. Each is being equipped with machinery to allow for many types of student projects. The current woods/metals shop area will be converted into a diesel mechanics area complete with an explosion-proof test area.

There are also many smaller construction activities, such as the remodeling of the kitchen to allow a total self-serve program for students. A new restroom facility is now available next to the new all-weather track. The foreign language labs have been updated to include portable transmission of practice tapes.

Eastside is expanding as it looks toward the future!

Wake up!

Mornings. How else can you describe them? One second you are shrouded in blissful sleep, and the next second the evil alarm clock sounds to bring you into the land of the living. Then the trial really begins. Just getting out of bed is one of the most difficult things in the world. It is right up there with understanding particle physics. Racing through your morning rituals of showering, contact lenses, teeth brushing, face washing, hair combing, make-up painting, and your basic dressing are enough to make even a saint curse. As if this wasn't enough, one still has to make the long trek to school in either school bus or private car. It is surprising that one actually has energy for school. Thank goodness that Saturdays, well..don't have mornings.

Homecoming

On Monday morning, September 11, at 0800 hours the battle began: The quest to prove which class truly had the most spirit. What did we discover? The freshmen are excellent rappers, the sophomores are the most artistically inclined, the juniors — well they tried really hard, and the glorious seniors were victorious overall once again! This excellent display of Blazer pride continued up to Friday evening when each class demonstrated their spirit by attempting to create the best Homecoming float. As this procession of trucks made their way down the crowdlined streets of Butler, chants of "We've got spirit, yes we do. We've got spirit how 'bout you?" rang through the expectant air.

How does it feel to be winners? Ask the 1989 Blazer football team who, unwilling to disappoint their loyal fans, rounded off an excellent Homecoming week by defeating the Fremont Eagles 21 to 12.

VROOM!

Many students are forced to wait in dread each morning for that monstrous yellow beast called a school bus. The upperclassmen should especially know the horrors of being jolted up and down the notorious Indiana roadways, while hordes of shouting youngsters drown out any chances of extra rest before school. Well, fear not ... there is another way!

For some, the only means of excape from this nightmare would be to live in town with a sympathetic family. Some are lucky enough to own his or her own car. Others are lucky enough to find a friend who drives his or her own car. But many students must find a more creative alternative to the horrid bus ride. Three-wheelers, snowmobiles, and lawn tractors would be good choices if they were not so noisy and uncomfortable especially in winter. Of course, skateboards and bicycles would not be much faster (unless you have seen Back to the Future), but they do beat riding the bus any day!

Those students who do ride the bus to school every morning probably do not have much choice; to them we can only say do not worry — summer will get here ... sooner or later.

What would life be like without friends? No one to share your deepest secrets with, no one to tell the latest gossip to, and no shoulder to cry on when your in despair: Friends make life interesting. Friends make you smile, laugh, and sometimes even cry, but that's all part of life, learning, and how to adjust and adapt.

Off The Track

This year's fall play, Off the Track, was written by Felicia Metcalf, and was set in the 1940's. A small wayside station on a stormy night sets the scene for the play as passengers wait for a relief train after a train wreck. While they are there, an Italian woman is accused of stealing the rich Mrs. Vanderventer's pearls. Law student Bill Lindsay decides to set up a mock trial to prove the woman's innocence. While all of this is going on, other things are also happening. Stodgy old maid Pidgie McDougal spends her evening bothering people while Mr. Pozenby keeps a secret hidden in his briefcase. Eventually, Mrs. Vanderventer's pearls are returned, the contents of the briefcase are discovered, and the relief train arrives.

The play brought out many fresh and talented faces. With only four seniors and two returning underclassmen, the fear of failure was constantly on our minds: But with a lot of hard work, dedication, and Mrs. Tubergen's faith in all of us, we were able to be successful.

You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown

"You're a Good Man, Charlie Brown" was, in many ways, a challenge for those who participated in this production. Suddenly high school students were asked to revert back to their childhood in order to recall various childlike feelings in different situations.

The musical begins with Charlie Brown asking the infamous question "What could go wrong on a day like this?" The rest of the cast — Linus, Schroeder, Lucy, Patty, and Snoopy — set out to answer this question.

Even though Charlie Brown realizes he is far from perfect, the rest of the cast learns a lesson about determining the value of others according to what they have to offer, not by their faults. In spite of everything, the cast knows just what a good man Charlie Brown is.

Making an effort to protect your future

The idea that a drunk driver might kill someone they know drove some students to form the Eastside chapter of Students Against Drunk Driving. The SADD members and their parents signed a "Contract for Life." This contract provides that if the students were to become drunk, he or she promises to call home, and the parents ensure that a safe ride home will be provided with no questions asked at that time. The reverse of the situation was also promised.

The week before and of Prom was filled with actives by SADD. The group arranged to have displayed a wrecked car from an actual drunk driving accident. This car set in front of the school as a reminder of the many drunk driving accident that occur each year. SADD also arranged for the Grim Reaper to visit Eastside. The Grim Reaper pulled students from class; these students were then considered "killed" and were not allowed to speak to anyone the rest of the day. The Grim Reaper was used to make the fact that 27 teenagers are killed each day by drunk drivers a reality to Eastside students. As an alternative after prom activity, the SADD chapeter provided a morP party. With the extensive and much appreciated support of community, the after prom party was very successful.

If just one drunk student calls their parents as a result of the "Contract for Life", then the SADD chapter of Eastside is made that much more important. SADD has organized and executed some thought provoking programs this year showing the dangers of drinking and driving. Their hardwork was very worthwhile.

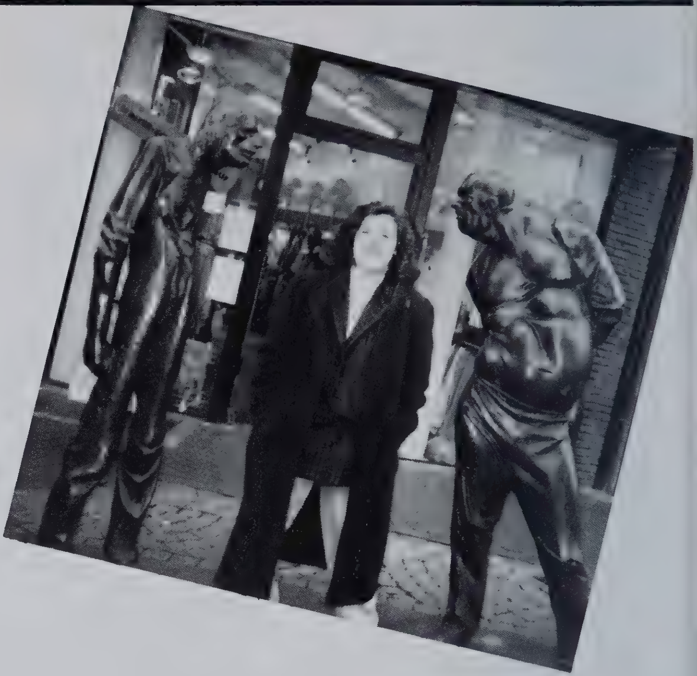
Greetings from Belgium



Dear Eastside,

The opportunity to be an exchange student to Belgium has proved to be one of the most worthwhile experiences of my life. I have grown to appreciate the Belgium culture and to love the people who have welcomed me into their country and homes. As the day approaches when I'll be forced to leave all of the people and places that I've grown so accustomed to, I've begun to reflect on all of the feelings that make up this year — the initial feeling of being totally lost, contentment when I realized that I'd finally adjusted, sadness upon leaving a family that I'd been a part of for three months, and pride after understanding a French movie for the first time.

There are always certain questions that people ask me when they find out that I'm an exchange student, and I thought they might be of interest to you:

How is the food? Well, Belgium food is wonderful! Most of it is similar to French food, but Belgium is famous for its waffles, french fries (which actually originated in Belgium), Chocolate, and the more than 500 varieties of beer.

What is my most unforgettable experience? It has to be when I took the train back to Belgium after spending a month in France over Christmas. I had to change trains at Paris, which wouldn't have been a problem if I could have stayed in the same train station. Always being a light traveler, I was forced to drag my over 100 pounds of luggage through the metros across the city. I often discovered I was going in the wrong direction and had to turn around. I could rarely go for more than ten steps without my rolling suitcase falling over. I believe that there are little old women who limp to this day after having run into me in Paris.

How does Belgium's culture differ from that of America? The European culture is linked much more to old traditions and ceremonies than ours. They are also founded on the Catholic faith, while the United States has more of a Protestant influence. Europe tends to be more open to nudity than the US. One part of the culture that I'm going to miss is the greeting. Everyone kisses each other on the cheek when they meet. What do you think the principal would do if we started that at Eastside?

Belgium has an abundance to offer in an area only one-third the size of Indiana. Every town and village has its own unique culture with its own festivals, typical food, and history. Its enduring medieval architecture and cobblestone roads give Belgium a special charm. Last year Belgium was a European country, barely distinguishable on a globe. This year Belgium has become my second home.

Miss you all,

We are Red
We are White
We are Danish Dynamite

Hi

My name is Edel Thomsen from Spjald, Denmark. I arrived to Butler on the 16th of August, 1989. My first family was the Floods, and they helped be a great deal, because I had a lot of trouble accepting things. There were so many things that I couldn't do over here, but back in Denmark I did every day.

A week after I came, I started in school, and it was a lot different than in Denmark. Here you have to call the teacher by his/her last name, but we can call them by their first name. And there is much more restriction on the kids over here.

A week after I came, my oldest brother, Gert, came and visited me, and when he left I did get homesick. But after a few days, I didn't have time to think about it. Then I joined basketball, and it was really fun, because I didn't understand anything, so I was just running around like I was really smart.

Then in November, I moved to my second family, the Bercaw's, and they were really nice to me. I lived with them at Christmas and that was a fun experience. But I had some big phonebills because over Christmas, I called my best friend, Lisbeth, back in Denmark all the time.

At Bercaw's I also learned to watch T.V. a lot and I liked the commercials a lot, because we don't have a lot of commercials in Denmark. (But I hate it now!!)

Then in March, my mom and dad came and visited me for a week and it was great to see them again. We went to Buffalo in New York to visit a girl who was an exchange student in Denmark last year. And she took us up to Niagara Falls, and I really liked that. My mom didn't really like it here in the U.S. She liked the people, but she thought Canada was prettier. But my dad liked it here, because his dad was born in Iowa.

Then a week after my parents went home I went to my last famly, the Sanders, and they are also really nice to me. But it was really hard to move away from Bercaws. I cried a lot because I've had such a great time with them. But I realized all the fun and experiences I was going to have with the Sanders.

My most memorable experience in the U.S. was after Christmas, when I went to Michigan with Sherry Smith, to go snow skiing. She laid a half hour on her bottom because she couldn't get up again. (I guess she was too big . . . ha ha!!)

Thanks to those people who gave me their treasured friendship. (thanks Carol Hite, Linda Roose, Beth Smith, and Scott Sprunger.)

Thanks to everyone at Eastside (a special thanks to Mrs. Bowman) and thanks to the Rotary club in Butler for all their support and help.

A special thanks to all of my host families and my counselors (Jerry and Sherry Smith) for all of their love, support, help, and dedication they gave me.

I'll love all you guys forever.

Love
Edel

Leadership of Tomorrow

Working to improve both the community and the school, National Honor Society and Student Council have common goals of making the most of leadership opportunities and attempting to better the world.

National Honor Society members display four essential traits: character, leadership, scholarship, and service. Throughout the year, members perform service activities such as babysitting for teachers during open house and donating food items to the Fine Arts Festival bake sale. Undoubtedly the favorite annual activity is the gossip/gorge banquet which was held at Pizza Hut this year.

Leading the student body through many activities, the student council works behind the scenes to ensure that activities such as Homecoming and student elections go smoothly. These students also sponsor a dance to recognize students who participated in student activities and a trip to Cedar Point. The group has also been consulted by the administration on issues which affect students.

Being a member of either the National Honor Society or Student Council gives students the opportunity to ensure a brighter future for Eastside High School.

Looking Towards the Future

Of all organizations, VICA, exploratory teaching, and FFA do the most to prepare students for their occupational futures. These groups provide students with the practical experience they will need to make sound decisions concerning the profession of their future.

VICA provides students with hands-on experience in mechanical areas. This year, members of the club participated in a regional competition, and Bill Bergman progressed to the state level. Members of VICA have also gathered to enjoy breakfast together.

The exploratory teachers actively explore their future profession on a daily basis. These students are each assigned an elementary class, and they assist the teacher in many ways including designing bulletin boards and teaching lessons. Reading teaching — related books, creating project cards, observing other teachers, and keeping a journal are a few of the activities these students are required to complete.

The Future Farmers of America is designed to integrate agricultural study into the school system. The group attends several contests which include both soil and animal judging contests. The highlight of the season usually occurs at fair time when individuals are able to show various animals and projects with hopes of having a grand champion.

With occupational groups such as these, Eastside promotes future careers.

Habla frances? Parlez-vous espagnol?

In an ever-shrinking world, it is growing more and more important to be able to speak more than one language. Eastside has realized this and has dealt with the idea by instituting two important clubs: the Spanish and French Clubs.

The Spanish Club had an array of events which took them to see Mexican folk dances at the Ballet Folklorico Mexicano performed by Jorge Tyller's dance troup. They also attended a bilingual performance of the play Las Adventuras de Don Quijote.

The active French Club has also done many interesting things. They attended a French production of The Three Musketeers. The club sold crepes at Christmas and maintained secret Santas. To celebrate Mardi Gras, the group had a party at Pizza Hut. In order to get a taste of France, they went to the Cafe Johnelle, Indiana's only four-star restaurant.

With these clubs Eastside is trying to prepare us for the global village which is swiftly approaching.

Helping Hands

A surprising amount of the things that get done at Eastside are done by the students. There are several clubs that developed around the student service sector.

The flag attendants often work unnoticed; yet, their job helps our student body to remember the pride they should have for our country and our flag. Four dedicated students take special time and care into insuring that our flag is properly displayed in all sorts of weather.

Without its legions of office cadets, the office would be virtually penalized. The students who are office cadets provide a multitude of services from running errands to delivering announcements.

The Eastside library is another part of the school that receives student assistance. Library aides help Mrs. Smith with the busy day to day operations of our school library.

Stop the Presses!

Eastside's student publications are comprised of the yearbook and the school newspaper. Both have put in long hours during and after school to pull together their publications.

The yearbook has sponsored a Valentines semi-formal and several bake sales and picture sales. They have also spent a lot of time running from one sporting event to another searching for that perfect shot. Staff members also sell yearbooks at school and ads to area businesses.

The school newspaper has spent much time writing socially relevant articles and interviewing people for articles. Their photography staff is also kept on its toes. To keep the paper afloat, the staff also sells ads to local businesses.

Both the school publications have put in long hours to provide Eastside students with lots of memories.

Beauty and the Beast

Beauty and the Beast; or rather Beauty and how the Beast works and what it is made of. Art and Science are two disciplines that study the world around them; and in the first case, try to emulate it and in the second case, study it with a passion.

The art club is a very active group that has done its best at helping the community and its members better appreciate art. They have designed place mats for Meadowhaven for Christmas as well as organized a school art show. They have worked with the DeKalb Eastern Fine Arts Association in organizing the Fine Arts Fun Fest.

The science club is one of the larger clubs at Eastside and has taken two field trips this year. In the fall they studied the laws of gravity while on their annual skiing trip. They also studied the gas laws while scuba diving at Tri-State. While on a trip to Chicago, they visited the Museum of Natural History and The Museum of Science and Industry and the Planetarium.

By studying and learning from nature and the world around them, these two clubs have tried to make a difference in their communities and the way they learn.

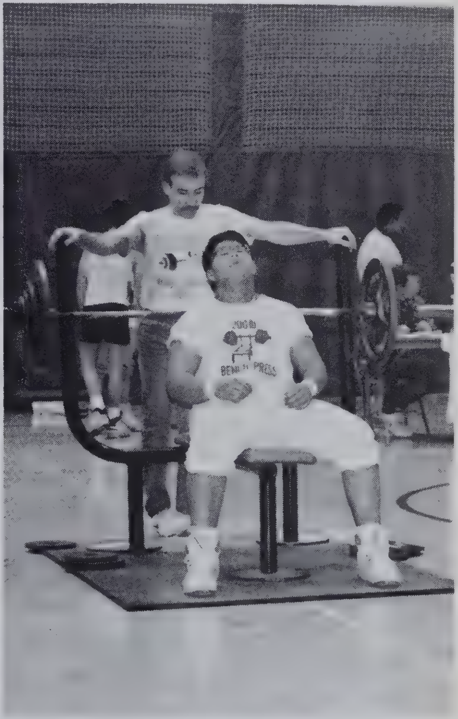
Building Strong Minds and Bodies

Two of man's gifts from his maker were his body and his mind. Both are being rigorously worked on at Eastside by the Weightlifting Club and the Chess Club.

The Chess Club meets weekly to hone their strategy skills to a sharp point. Mr. Hill presides as their sponsor. This year he led them to regionals where they unfortunately failed to go on to nationals. However, they have sharpened their wits and their chess sense in the process.

The Weightlifting Club, one of the largest clubs at Eastside, has been developing their bodies to their highest potential. The club sponsored a lift-a-thon in which 90 students participated. The money that was raised is going to the new weight room equipment.

Eastside has devoted much of its time to the development of strong minds and strong bodies.



Deep in concentration, Gilbert Ramon will attempt to lift the next weight.

Preparing for his next competition, Jack Steckley studies the board for the next move.

The pep club forms an old-fashioned pep block complete with group participation in forming words of victory.

Keeping Spirit Alive

For only being the second year of an organized pep club, the members had plenty to contribute to the school and our community. They sold spirit towels for the football team and helped with the bonfire before the sectional football game. Members performed skits at the pep sessions and kept the student body laughing and cheering. Throughout the school year, each sport's team had a delicious breakfast prepared for them. This year's pep club kept busy . . . But their most important contribution was the school spirit they helped to generate. The never-ending support and dedication of Ms. Charlesworth and the entire pep club played on important role in reestablishing the school spirit at Eastside.

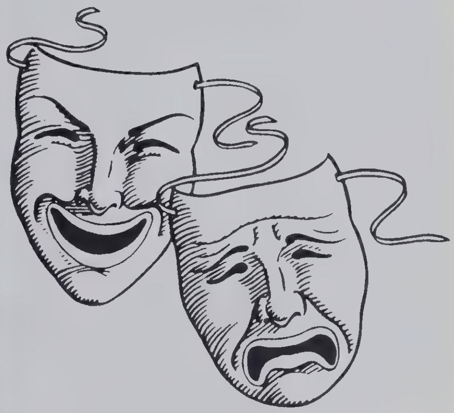
In The Spotlight

The drama club at Eastside provides its members with a positive way to release their creativity. They have prepared two productions this year. Students worked very hard through the winter working on props, sets, and lines in order to portray a realistic railway station for "Off the Track." The spring preformance contained both laughs and music in the musical comedy "You're a Good Man Charlie Brown." Everyone worked together to make this a very successful year. Although there are many experienced seniors leaving, their places are going to be filled by several bright, young, talented people.

Individual work pays off when the student receives membership to the International Thespian society. The ceremony signifies the hard work and commitment that the individual puts into their year of theater experiences.



During one of many rehersals for the spring musical, Snoopy (Larry King) and Shroader (Brett Conrad) sing about Charlie Brown (Chris Washler).

Quest for Greatness

1989 NECC Champs

A dynasty is in the making for Eastside Football. This year, each and every player had to dedicate themselves to hard work and long hours of practice to achieve a second, consecutive NECC Championship. The players would like to thank our coaching staff for showing us how to start a tradition of excellence as we journeyed on towards our "Quest for Greatness."

Striding for Success

Working with a young team, Tim Rayle coached our team to an almost flawless season with our only regular season loss to the fourth ranked Westview. Running all summer and the 500 mile club helped us all gain the endurance and strength needed to place four runners in the top ten at the NECC Conference Race. Eastside runner Bruce Carpenter won the NECC Conference Champion Title. The school record was broken by two runners: Bruce ran with a time of 15:46, and Kevin Ortiz ran a 15:57. Bruce continued on to the State Cross Country Meet and received recognition as an All-State runner.

Nightmare on Greenstreet

1990 Sectional and NECC Champions

This was a very successful record setting season for the Blazer mattmen. We amassed a record of 18-3, and accomplished something that no past Eastside grapplers have: A team championship. We won the New Haven Inventional, NECC Tourney, the NECC regular season crown, and the Sectional Championship Trophy. We were also team runner-ups at Regionals. Other records broken were most regional qualifiers (8), most semi-state qualifiers (4), and the first ever state qualifiers — Brian Minnick (135) and Chad Parrish (152).

The theme that made this team champions was "Don't give excuses, give results."

Catch Us If You Can!

It takes a lot of time, work, and dedication to be in a sport. We (the team) knew what we had to do at the beginning of the season to accomplish the goals we wanted to achieve. That meant going to practice every day, and it also meant getting angry at each other because of our high level of competitiveness. The end result was a 16-7 record, the best record since 1983.

Throughout the season as a team we tied and broke several school records. We were successful enough to get to the final game of the sectional. That was the first time since 1977 that Eastside had been in the final game. Although we fell short of some goals, we all had fun. I hope the future players have as much fun as I did.

Scott Cline

Gotta, Gotta Take Control!

Our 1989-1990 basketball season ended 2-14 overall. Though the record doesn't show it, we, as a team, accomplished a great deal. We had a young team and positions were always changing, but Coach Fleming stuck with us and kept the team postive. We weren't a real tall team, but we worked and ran hard in practices so that our speed and fundamentals would make up for the missing height. We also tried to always keep our spirits high and to play each game with as much intensity as possible.

It was hard watching those final few seconds tick off the clock of our last game, but I'll never forget everyone and our entire season. Thanks for the memories . . . and best of luck to Coach Fleming and next years Lady Blazer basketball team!!

NECC Champions

This years team was really strong because of our coaching. We have a really tough team, but without our coaching staff, we would have been nothing this year.

The guys decided that we wanted to do something special this year, but we never expected to be third in the state. That is something no other Eastside team has ever done.

This team has come a long way this year and has put a lot of effort into the season. It's been great playing for the EHS baseball team amd Coach Fiedler.

Playing Hardball

NECC Tourney Champions

The 1990 girls softball team was under the new coaching staff this year of Coach Drotar and Coach Willard. They taught us that hard work, determination, and, most of all, teamwork would bring us out on top. We had a great season by accomplishing 3 of our 4 goalds set at the beginning of the season. We won the NECC tourney title, we were sectional finalists, and we earned a 13-4 season record. I would like to thank the coaches for believing in us, no matter how bad it got out on the field, and for giving us a great year to remember.

Hurdling Over the Opposition

1990: A New Decade in Eastside Track. That was this year's theme for the boy's varsity track team. Along with the them went the acronym: New Traditions ... New Records ... New Attitudes ... New Commitment ... New Kind of Success. This year the boy's varsity team enjoyed a very productive season. We had our first winning season in several years; we qualified ten people for sectionals, and Bruce Carpenter made a return trip to the state meet. The team was much more balanced this year than in past years; our sprinters and field event people added a lot of depth to the team. The distance guys gave us the big points in the meets while the other guys gave us the points that we needed to win in the close meets. Coach Hollabaugh really helped pull the team together. He and Coach Smeltzer put in a lot of work to make the team successful. Great season guys!

Chris Washler

> "Our main goal at the beginning of the season was to improve over last year's record. Last year we won only one meet while this year our record was 4-3. A definite improvement."
>
> — Jason Schiffli

A step ahead of his opponent, Stacy Wasson completes another hurdle in the 300m meter hurdles event.

Making the Distance

The 1990 track season was once again an adjusting period with our new coach, Ms. Tubergen. The team made the best of it, and that was pretty easy because the coach was a lot of fun and so were the other girls. We ended with a regular season record of 2 and 4 which was pretty good considering we only had twelve girls. Our seaon went well, and it proved to be a year for individualism — do the best in your own race. I would like to thank Ms. Tubergen and the girls for a memorable year and wish them the best of luck next year and in their future.

◀Although Anne Emerick and Treena Trish are supposed to be studying for their news quiz, their horoscopes were just too alluring.

◀Tara Heyman, on one of her more glamorous days, studies her complex Algebra II.

◀Scott Cline and his pet pig . . . (to be pronounced pi-yug). What else can we say?

Showing her devilish side, Debbie Kenning displays her newly acquired horns.▶

▲Senior Class Officers for this year are Tara Patterson, Vice-President; Jason Schiffli, President; Larry King, Treasurer; and Todd Haupert, Secretary.

Scott Cline summarizes Mondays with one simple gesture.▶

◀Confined to the rigors of study hall, Jo Collins and Robin Moore smile anxiously awaiting their weekend time off for good behavior.

▲Holli Linn demonstrates her Gene Simmons impersonation.

◀The class menagerie displays its unique color. I can't wait to see what they do for Halloween.

Dear Graduate:

You have spent many years and countless hours studying the basic laws of nature and science that govern our universe, and the laws of business, society and government which goven our human relationships in order to be prepared to meet the challenges of life. your success in meeting those challenges will largely be determined by how well you are able to function within the framework of these laws.

However, perhps in your quest for knowledge and understanding you have ignored the most important laws of all: the eternal, unchangeable laws of God that not only govern the degree of happiness with which we will enjoy life, but will determine our eternal destiny. It is only as one understands and accepts these spiritual laws that the basic questions in life can be answered — WHO AM I? — WHAT IS MY PURPOSE IN LIFE? — and WHAT IS MY DESTINY? These laws are presented for your consideration and examination in the hope that you will find, as we have, the abundant and eternal life that is available in Jesus Christ.

Sincerely — AMBASSADOR STEEL CORPORATION

Daryle L. Doden, President Ryan L. Hoover, secretary Richard C. Ripberger, Vice-President Bruce S. Holwerda, Treasurer

LAW ONE: God LOVES you, and Offers a Wonderful PLAN for Your Life.
"For God so loved the world, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have eternal life." — John 3:16.
"I came that they might have life, and might have it abundantly." — John 10:10

LAW TWO: Man is SINFUL and SEPARATED from GOD.
"For all have sinned and fallen short of the glory of God." — Romans 3:23.
"For the wages of sin is death." — Romans 6:23a.

LAW THREE: Jesus Christ is God's ONLY Provision for Man's Sin.
"Christ died for our sins ... He was buried ... He was raised the third day, according to the Scriptures ..." — I Corinthians 15:3-6.
"Jesus said to him, 'I am the way, the truth, and the life; no one comes to the Father, but through Me.' " — John 14:6.

LAW FOUR: We Must Individually RECEIVE Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord.
"But as many as received Him, to them He gave the right to become the children of God, even to those who believe in His name." — John 1:12.
We must receive Christ through Faith "For by grace you have been saved through faith; and that not of yourselves, it is the gift of God; not as a result of work that no one should boast." — Ephesians 2:8-9.
We must receive Christ by personal invitation "Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if any one hears My voice and opens the door, I will come in to him." — Revelation 3:20.

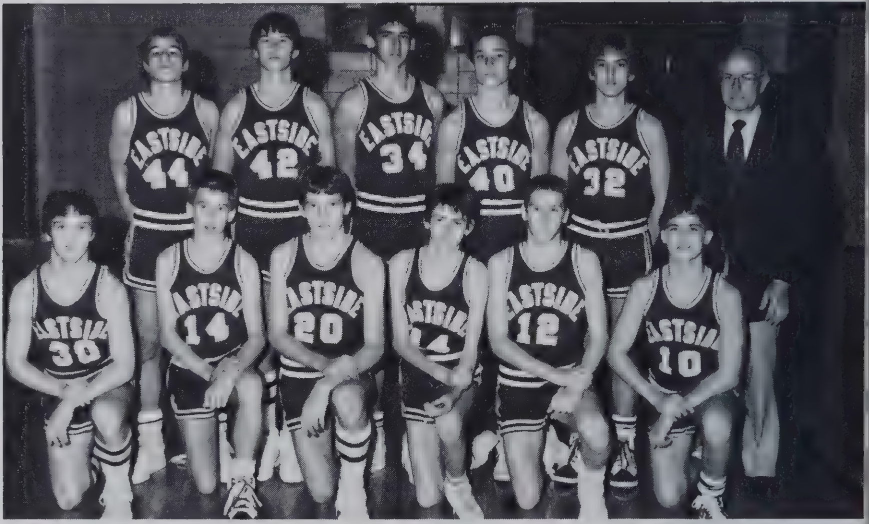
DAMIAN

We knew you would make it!
We will always be there for you!
Good Luck!

LOVE,
MOM, DAD, & DARRIN



Before we rush on to face the future, take a moment to remember when . . .

It's time to face the future
